Homily Thoughts

The feast of the Baptism of the Lord marks a moment of transition in the church's calendar: we have come to the end of the Christmas season. On Monday we will start Ordinary Time.

Baptism was also a moment of transition for Jesus: before his Baptism Jesus led an ordinary life as a carpenter. The descent of the Holy Spirit at his Baptism changed everything: the Spirit empowered Jesus to initiate his public life as a wandering preacher.

In today's account of Jesus' baptism, we hear that the Spirit came down on Jesus, not during, but after his baptism while he was at prayer. The evangelist Luke often writes about Jesus at prayer at the important moments of his life.

The Spirit is so important for Jesus at this moment: the Spirit gave him understanding and wisdom to know what to do, the Spirit filled his heart with compassion, and with perseverance to keep going.

Just as for Jesus, so for us, his disciples, prayer is important: daily prayer and prayer at the moments when we have to make decisions.

In life we cannot just go with the flow. At times we have to stop and ask ourselves: what do I really want? What does God want for me?

Prayer is important because when we pray the Spirit of God comes down on us. The Spirit is already in our hearts. And yet, we continue to invoke the Holy Spirit, because we need to nourish her presence in our hearts, constantly.

As we are entering a New Year, we ask the Spirit to fill our hearts: with the gift of wisdom to make decisions which are life-giving; with the gift of perseverance, as we continue to battle with the Pandemic, and with the greatest gift, the gift of compassion and love.

Sunday Obligation

Not long before Christmas, there was question of the bishops reimposing the obligation, under the sanction of mortal sin, to attend Mass every Sunday. If I remember rightly, it did not materialise because of the appearance of Omicron.

But why re-impose this obligation with its implied penalty for failure? Surely, the original obligation was to keep the Sabbath holy. This did not necessarily mean go to Mass. The Sabbath was a day set aside to rest and be peaceful. It was a means of giving the workers time: family time, rest time and prayer time. To keep it holy meant giving time to all three. The sabbath was a time to restore and strengthen oneself and one's relationships: in short, a means to a healthy lifestyle.

The Sabbath rest these days seems to be lost for most. Sunday is a day when we are under pressure; to take the children to activities and clubs, to shop, to clean the house, to visit relatives, and to work in shops and entertainment venues to earn the money to... Sunday is now catch-up day, not rest day!

It is the loss of the Sabbath that we bemoan. For the Sabbath would be the day when the Family of God could assemble to both worship and socialise as a Family. It would be a day when we would meet to find support and draw strength to continue our efforts to grow in love with God and with the neighbour. The Eucharist would be part of this weekly occasion to rest and be thankful, to rest in God and with our fellow disciples.

The Sabbath would be something we would look forward to, not something we would do out of obligation and the dread of hell!

Universal Synod 2023:

Archbishop Malcolm is calling us to take part in the listening phase of the Universal Synod on synodality 2023, which Pope Francis has invited the whole Church to join.

Although we have already engaged with the synodal process in the archdiocese as part of Synod 2020, which initially generated 27,000 responses, we may find ourselves in a different place on our journey. This may include fresh insights, which will be submitted to the Bishops' Conference together with the summary of the listening phases of Synod 2020.

To participate in this world wide listening process, you can access and download the discussion questions from

Monday 10 January 2022, as well as submit your responses online at www.liverpoolcatholicresources.com/synod 2023. The deadline for submissions is 10 March 2022. For queries: vaticansynod@rcaol.org.uk.
